These Old Shoes was inspired by a farewell message that I presented at Fountain of Life Church in Saraland, Alabama on May 15, 2011. It was not a typical farewell message, because I was stepping out of my old shoes as music director and my daughter, Alisa, was stepping into them. On this day, during the choir's final song, I stepped out of my shoes and she stepped into them. My wife, Kathy, and I draped my prayer shawl (Elijah's mantle) around Alisa's shoulders and walked off of the platform. These Old Shoes is intended to remind Alisa, and all of us that no matter where our path may lead, God has given us the shoes we need to press on to victory!Barry Anaacker is currently the Superintendent of Education of the Jackson County School District in Mississippi and currently lives in Ocean Springs, Mississippi. Shoes are an integral part of Jewish material culture. Although they appear in some of the most foundational biblical stories, they are generally regarded as no more than lowly, albeit essential, accessories. Jews and Shoes takes a fresh look at the makings and meanings of shoes, cobblers, and barefootedness in Jewish experience. The book shows how shoes convey theological, social, and economic concepts, and as such are intriguing subjects for inquiry within a wide range of cultural, artistic, and historic contexts. The book's multidisciplinary approach encompasses a wide range of contributions from disciplines as diverse as fashion, visual culture, history, anthropology, Bible and Talmud, and performance studies. Jews and Shoes will appeal to students, scholars and general readers alike who are interested to find out more about the practical and symbolic significance of shoes in Jewish culture since antiquity.

Zechariah 2:5 For I, declares the Lord, will be a wall of fire around her, and I will be the glory in her midst. Dear Diary...This created story unfolds in the form of a diary. One mid-day afternoon during a heavy rainfall, Ausha, deciding to take a nap unexpectedly has her dream interrupted by a beautiful young maiden named "Hagar" who comes and sits down beside her. Smiling at her, this maiden who appears to be about her age, smiles back, then hands her an old rickety worn book. With a look of puzzlement on her face, Ausha accepts it. Smiling and nodding her head, the wide-eyed maiden encourages her to open it. Ausha's thought; "Why is this maiden smiling?" Based upon what she had learned about Hagar in biblical history, she had nothing to smile about. As Ausha cracks open the ancient book, light, sound and dust erupts from it. Brushing off the first page Ausha gasp as she sees this caption, "My Diary". Quickly thumbing through the pages, she notices they are blank. When she looks up to question the maiden, Hagar is no longer there. Suddenly there is a loud thunderous sound and Ausha wakes up from her nap. Excited and now in pursuit of her own journal's journey, she sets out to dig through the ancient scriptures of the bible for answers. Fused with a charge and her God given imagination, Ausha goes in search of the reason for Hagar's smile. It is her hope to aid this young maiden by filling in a unique perspective of content to the pages of her (Hagar's) old historical diary. Also shared in this amazing book are six modern day created stories, pulled from the diaries of different women and one man. I pray your heart is enlightened and your imagination engaged, as we once again discover the faithfulness of El Rio, "The God Who Sees".
